Distance learning courses of University of Akron, USA

In association with IRMRA, AIRIA, ATMA, RUBBER BOARD AND CAPEXIL, efforts are on to seek the extension of Distance Learning Programme developed by the University of Akron, USA.

In view of the growth expected in the rubber industries of India and South East Asia, there would be a huge potential and need for training and developing technical manpower at various levels. Supply of competent human capital will be necessary for the various manufacturing sectors of the rubber industry which is continuing to expand.
